TRIED TO MURDER FOR TWO YEARS

WOULD BE MURDERER OF BALDWIN'S OF KAUAI LONG IN HIS EFFORT

The trial of the Baldwin poisoning case on Kauai brought out evidence that the attempts to poison members of the Baldwin family were made as long as two years ago by the same Japanese who was finally convicted. The Jap is Nomi Nino and he was given five years hard labor for attempt to murder. It was shown that Baldwin and his wife and children began to suffer peculiar sickness in January, 1932, shortly after they first employed Nino. In September they became suspicious of him and discharged him, and recovered health. In October last year they took him back, thinking they had done him an injustice and raising his wages. At once the sickness returned and last January Nino was caught and confessed. He had put hydrochloric acid of morphine in the family filter, and slow poisoning was taking place.

The other most important case of the term was that of Candido Soto, a Porto Rican, who was sentenced last Saturday by Judge Hardy, to be hanged. His victim was Pasqual Hernandez and the murder was an unusually brutal one. After beating Hernandez over the head with a club Soto went to his own room, secured a knife and returned and struck it into the victim's heart. The evidence was circumstantial.

The only acquittal among the twenty criminal cases on the calendar for the term was that of W. A. Wright, the former tax assessor. It was Wright's second trial, a former jury having disagreed. Wright is a brother of ex-Treasurer William H. Wright. He was defended by Cathcart.

The cases were all prosecuted by E. A. Douthett, as special deputy attorney general.

THE NEWCOMBS ARE GOING EAST

E. A. P. NEWCOMB CALLED BY CLIENTS TO EXECUTE SOME OF HIS IMPORTANT DESIGNS.

E. A. P. Newcomb, and his sister Miss Newcomb, leave by the Ventura today for the east, to be gone for some months. Mr. Newcomb, during the past months, has prepared plans for important structures for clients in the east, not however expecting to go east to superintend their construction. A few weeks ago, however, he received an urgent request from one of these clients to come on. This was followed by similar requests from the others. These requests included offers of payment of expenses there and back and provision for an office while there.

Mr. Newcomb and Miss Newcomb will be gone several months. Their time will be about equally spent between Boston, Manchester, N. H., and Lynchburg, Va., where the buildings Mr. Newcomb has designed, are to be constructed.

Mr. and Miss Newcomb have many friends here in church and artistic circles, and their absence will be felt. Mr. Newcomb is congratulated on the compliment that has been paid him in calling him from this distance to execute his designs.

This is the second time since Mr. Newcomb first came here that he has been called away on a similar mission.

FIRST SHIP WAS HIS LAST

LATE CAPTAIN WYMAN DIED AS MATE ON FIRST VESSEL HE SERVED ON IN ISLANDS.

The funeral of the late Captain W. A. Wyman was held yesterday afternoon from the undertaking parlors of H. H. Williams. The funeral services were conducted under the auspices of Honolulu harbor of the Masters and Pilots' Association. Captain F. Mosher conducted the services, and read the ritual. Forty-eight members of the harbor were present. The following were pall bearers: E. H. Parker, W. Freeman, W. Thompson, Thomas Sanderson, William Kael and Arthur Inman. The interment was at the Pearl City Cemetery, a large crowd attending the final services at the grave.

The deceased was about 55 years of age and was a native of Yarmouth, N. S. He originally came to Honolulu on the barkentine W. H. Dimond but left that vessel to go with the steamer Claudine about 16 years ago. He was subsequently in the service of the Inter-Island Company as master of the steamer Nooka and left that company to reenter the Wilder service.

He was mate of the steamer Claudine. It was quite an odd coincidence that the first vessel upon which he served in the Hawaiian Islands, should have been the last where he was employed, as he was found dead in his bunk aboard the Claudine Sunday. Pathy degeneration of the heart was the cause of death. He had no family here.

NOW WHERE WAS

PAUL SMITH

IWILEI POLICEMAN DID NOT APPEAR IN ORDER TO TELL WHO PAID FOR HIS WORK.

"Where is Paul Smith?" was the question asked by the Police Committee of the House of Representatives last night as preliminary to the other query "Who Paid Paul Smith?" For Paul Smith, the former guardian of the somewhat loose morals of Iwilei was not present to answer the questions of Representative Coelho. Word had been left at the police station for Paul to be present but he was not in evidence. It was supposed that the message did not reach him so to make assurance doubly sure a subpoena was issued to bring him before a meeting of the committee to be held tonight.

Auditor Fisher appeared last night with his records and stated that the name of Paul Smith was nowhere on the rolls during the period he is said to have been employed as special officer at Iwilei. An examination of the books showed this to be correct.

But there were other names on the list and the opinion was hazarded that for the purpose of drawing pay it would be quite possible to show cause why he is not an improper person to appear as prosecutor. Magoon sets forth in his plea that Ballou is opposed to him in the A. W. Carter litigation and charged him with conspiracy and was in turn charged by him with mal-practice, that in the Smith-ee case Ballou made an "unethical and vicious" attack upon him, filing the charges now under consideration, and that he is therefore disqualified.

OBJECTS TO BALLOU

J. A. Magoon this afternoon filed a special appearance in the Supreme Court in the matter of the charges against him, with a plea that S. M. Ballou be required to show cause why he is not an improper person to appear as prosecutor. Magoon sets forth in his plea that Ballou is opposed to him in the A. W. Carter litigation and charged him with conspiracy and was in turn charged by him with mal-practice, that in the Smith-ee case Ballou made an "unethical and vicious" attack upon him, filing the charges now under consideration, and that he is therefore disqualified.
